

David Ibsen, Associate Director

David Ibsen currently serves as PMA's Associate Director. He brings more than a decade of experience in finance, organization development and fundraising at a variety of corporate and nonprofit organizations. In his role at PMA, David supports the staff with current and prospective client engagements, as well focusing on the operations of the firm.

Prior to joining the PMA team, David working in the development office at Levine Museum of the New South in Charlotte, NC. In that role, David worked directly with the development director to create strategies around cultivating and stewarding the Museum's major donors. He was also responsible for planning the Museum's annual appeal and assisting in the conversion of the database.

Prior to his work in the nonprofit sector, David spent nine years working in the financial industry. He worked for both RBC and SunTrust Bank in Atlanta, GA. David worked most prominently as a small business banker and a branch manager, working directly with corporations and individuals, providing counsel on how to grow and save their money.

David is a 1999 graduate of Furman University in Greenville, SC where he earned his BA in Political Science. He is currently completing his coursework to receive his MS in Organization Development from Queens University of Charlotte. David also serves on the Board of Directors as the treasurer of OD on the Edge, the Charlotte-based professional association of organization development professionals. He is an active member of the Association of Fundraising Professionals-Charlotte Region.